

GRANVILLE STREET

You can easily spend a day—or a week—exploring the jam-packed 800-block of Granville Street, downtown between Robson Street and Smithe.

HOT NIGHTSPOTS

They don't call it Entertainment Row for nothin': club-hop from the laid-back 1 Lennox Pub (page 110) to the 2 Commodore Ballroom (page 109), with its sprung dance floor, to 3 The Plaza Club (page 109), with its hot DJs.

MORE SHOES, PLEASE

Sex and the City's Carrie Bradshaw had it right: there's no such thing as too many shoes. Good thing 7 John Fluevog Shoes (pictured; page 56) and 8 David Gordon (page 53) are there to fuel a gal's footwear obsession.

WALK OF FAME

Vancouver's version of the Hollywood Walk of Fame stretches all along this block, with sidewalk stars for local luminaries such as Sarah McLachlan and Diana Krall. W

The 800-block of Granville Street is easily accessed by walking, cycling, driving, cabbing or taking public transit. Buses and the SkyTrain both stop nearby.
