

DYNAMIC DUO

APR 27 You'll be dancing on the ceiling (oh, what a feeling!) when Lionel Richie (page 52) takes the stage at Rogers Arena. Joining the Grammy-, Oscar- and Golden Globe-winning artist—in what might be pop music's most perfect pairing—is the best-selling female artist of all time, Mariah Carey. Their aptly named All the Hits Tour is filled with the songs you know and love, from Richie's "Endless Love," "Penny Lover" and "All Night Long (All Night)" to Carey's "Always Be My Baby," "Touch My Body" and "We Belong Together." Consider it a stroll down memory lane complete with a hit-parade soundtrack.

DANCE DANCE FEVER

MAR 1 TO 25 Newbies and aficionados alike always find much to love at the Vancouver International Dance Festival (page 53). The 17th annual fest brings to local stages everything from ballet to butoh. Don't miss Dairakudakan, Japan's otherworldly ensemble; the visionary choreography of San Francisco's Alonzo King LINES Ballet (pictured); and Post No Bills, a solo piece by Denmark's Kitt Johnson that explores the transformative power of crisis.

A SONG OF ICE & FIRE

APR 1 While you're (still) waiting for the next book and TV season, immerse yourself in the GoT world at the Game of Thrones Live Concert Experience (page 52), complete with 3D designs that rise from the stage and an 80-piece orchestra conducted by the show's composer, Ramin Djawadi. After all, winter is coming.
