

Canada Day at Granville Island

TD Vancouver International Jazz Festival

Happy Canada Day!

JULY 1

Grab a flag, don some red and white gear, and get ready to belt out the national anthem on our country's 147th birthday.

On Jul. 1, free festivities—including parades, concerts and face painting—take over Canada Place, Granville Island, Burnaby and Whistler (all listed on page 70). The TD Vancouver International Jazz Festival (page 74) concludes its 29th fest with outdoor concerts on Granville Island. The Britannia Mine Museum (page 78) has organized a LEGO scavenger hunt and an interactive storytelling experience to celebrate both Canada's birthday and its own 110-year anniversary.

Now is also the time to stock up on patriotic souvenirs. Magnetic Poetry (www.magneticpoetry.com) produces a charming "Don't stop believing in the Canadians" magnet. The endlessly waving Solar Mountie is available at Make (page 35) and Hudson House (page 35). In addition to its eye-catching tents that resemble an open book, a sliced watermelon and a wedge of cheese, FieldCandy (www.fieldcandy.com) makes one that looks like a giant Canadian flag. Now if only we could find a birthday cake that big, too.—Sheri Radford

DON'T STOP
BELIEVING
IN THE CANADIANS

PHOTOS: (TOP L) BY TIM MATHESON; COURTESY GRANVILLE ISLAND. (TOP R) BY DANNIELLE HAYES; COURTESY TOURISM VANCOUVER