

Pretty as a Postcard

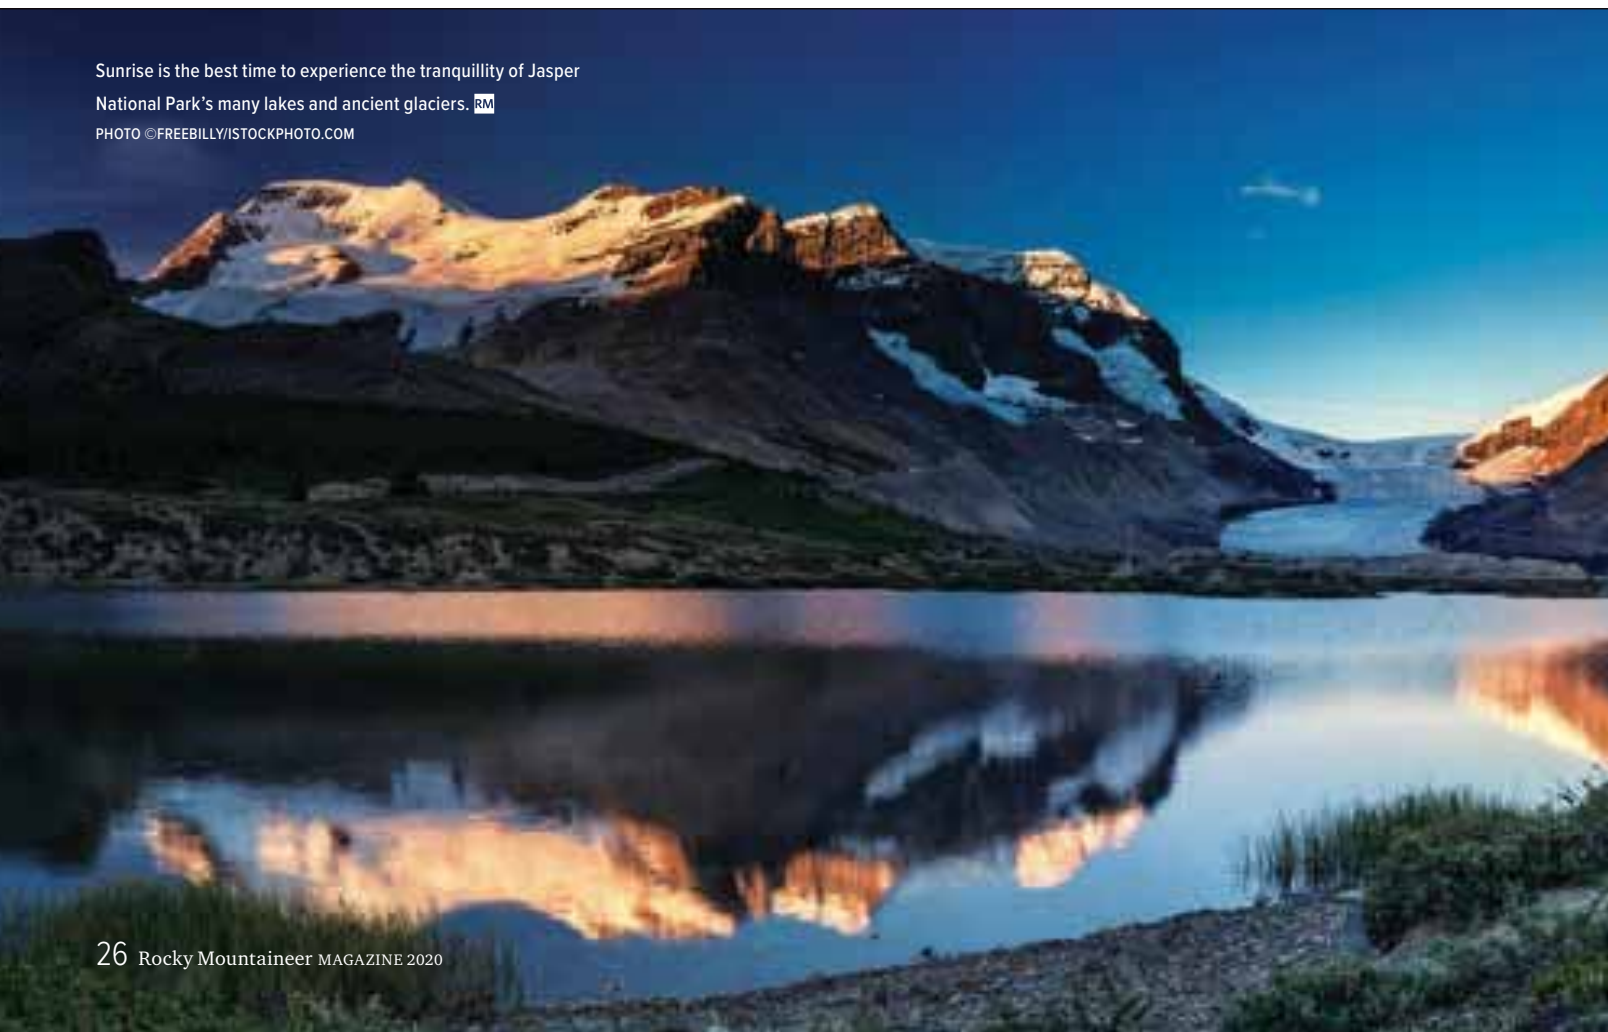

Hoping to glimpse Mother Nature's most stunning handiwork? Visit these picturesque spots in Western Canada BY SHERI RADFORD

One of the largest lakes in Banff National Park,
Bow Lake is fed by the Bow Glacier.
PHOTO ©LUCKY-PHOTOGRAPHER/ISTOCKPHOTO.COM

Sunrise is the best time to experience the tranquility of Jasper National Park's many lakes and ancient glaciers.
PHOTO ©FREEBILLY/ISTOCKPHOTO.COM

Fed by the Sphinx and Sentinel glaciers, Garibaldi Lake is nestled in amongst the mountains around Whistler and Squamish.

PHOTO © LUBOMIR CHUDOBA/SHUTTERSTOCK.COM

