

PURE JEAN-IUS

Dish and Duer's jeans are renowned for their perfect combination of street style and comfortable stretch, making them ideal for the active West Coast lifestyle. Now the Vancouver company has opened a playful flagship store, complete with indoor monkey bars and a swing set, right in the heart of downtown. Stop by to try on some performance denim and you'll quickly discover that your inner child wants to hike, bike and climb in jeans more comfy than sweatpants. See page 38.

TRUE NORTH STRONG & FREE

Proclaim your love for Canada in a Trailblazer t-shirt from Roots (page 39). Made from organic cotton, this relaxed tee evokes a bygone era of wild places and wide-open spaces with its vintage-postcard-inspired graphics. It'll have you watching hockey, drinking Tim Hortons coffee, apologizing profusely and singing along to "O Canada" in no time.

A WINNING WATCH

Want to feel like an Olympic champion? Slip on the podium-worthy Seamaster Diver 300m Rio 2016 from Omega (page 42). It features a ceramic bezel ring in black and lacquered numerals in red, green, yellow and blue, representing the colours of the five Olympic rings, plus its caseback is engraved with its limited-edition number.

BEACH READS

Don't let water worries put a damper on your summertime reading: the Kobo Aura H20 is the world's first completely waterproof eReader, perfect for the beach, the pool or even the bathtub. Find it at Indigo (page 34) and London Drugs (page 48).
